A flower market is held every Monday with a long line. Flowers from wedding events at the hotel which are normally thrown out, are upcycled and sold in beautiful bouquets.

Made with organic herbs grown in Japan at a JAS certified organic farm in Mishima, Shizuoka Prefecture, our series of toiletries exceeds the highest international quality standard.

Our beanbags in the terrace are mad from upcycled sails that were used for many years on actual sailboats. You'll find listed on the body of the bean bag the ship that used the sail, the harbor where it moored, and what not.

Thousands of origami cranes are sent to Hiroshima from all throughout Japan and all over the world. The city receives the million paper cranes every year, and together they weigh some ten tons. Our folding fans are created with a material made from the upcycled paper cranes.

Our flip flops provided to guests staying at our hotel are durable enough for an extended period of use: they are not disposable slippers.

All the straws and shopping bags are now made from fully biodegradable materials. While offering the same durability as conventional plastics, these materials return to the earth and are reabsorbed into nature, and can therefore play a part in preventing global warming.

Wine cork from Wedding party has been collected and recycled to the "knife holder" by the support facility for people with disabilities. T&G Group buys them and reuses.

Our coffee mugs, Eco Mark certified products are jointly developed with Green Life 21 Project of Gifu Prefecture, a company striving to create products with low environmental impact. Chinaware once used in restaurants and schools is recycled into a new material.

All the beds in our guestrooms incorporate frames made from reused natural wood.

Over the last two years with COVID-19 Pandemic , we have overcome many unprecedented challenges. Because we have always innovated and pioneered the future with our own hands, now I decided to take on the challenge of a new business, taking this crisis as a trigger. As globalization accelerates, we are growing with more competitive edge into a stronger company that will support the Japanese economy in the future.

Representative Director,
Chairman
Yoshitaka Nojiri

A crisis reveals actual value. That's why I have made management decisions during the pandemic based on the philosophy, not on the immediate pursuit of profits. As a results, T&G Group has captured more credibility of customers and employees and recovered business performance significantly. The market environment has changed drastically due to the Pandemic. On the other hand, there are also new opportunities. We are sure to continue to be a leading company with growth and stable profit generation. In addition, aiming for a bigger leap, we will take on the challenge of the hotel business in earnest with high-quality and high value-added services.

Representative Director,
President
Kenji Iwase
